Leaf-Tailed Geckos · Questions 1–6

Leaf-Tailed Geckos

Leaf-tailed geckos live in rainforest trees. They are well suited to this place, but they still need food, water and shelter to survive. Conditions can change across the day and through the seasons, so safe resting places are important.

Features such as mottled skin and flat tails help them blend with bark. These adaptations make everyday tasks easier and can also help them avoid danger. Young organisms survive best when their surroundings provide suitable food or nutrients and shelter.

They obtain what they need from small insects. As they live and grow in their habitat, they also become part of a larger food web that connects plants and animals. Changes to one part of this web can affect many other living things.

One challenge is tree clearing. People can help by protecting old forest, observing living things responsibly and leaving natural shelters undisturbed. Small, repeated actions can protect the habitat without preventing people from learning about it.

- 1 At the reef centre, decide: what is the main purpose of Leaf-Tailed Geckos?

A to give instructions for catching leaf-tailed geckos
B to advertise a wildlife toy
C to explain how leaf-tailed geckos live and survive
D to tell a fantasy story about leaf-tailed geckos

The Clockwork Feather · Questions 13–18

The Clockwork Feather

Ava was helping near the school storeroom when Ava noticed a silver feather. It looked ordinary at first, but one detail seemed new. Ava looked around for clues before touching or moving anything.

As Ava examined it more closely, it began ticking and pointed towards a locked drawer. Ava hesitated. The discovery was exciting, yet it might belong to someone else or be too delicate to handle alone. A hurried choice could damage both the object and the clues around it.

Instead of rushing ahead, Ava asked the caretaker for help and followed a faded diagram. Each new clue matched something already visible in the school storeroom, so the search became careful rather than wild. Ava paused after every step to record what had changed.

At last, the drawer opened to reveal a box of old school badges. Ava wrote a short note explaining where the object had been found and what had happened. The note included the order of the clues so another person could check the discovery.

By the end of the afternoon, the discovery had become part of the place's story. Ava was proud, not because the object was valuable, but because patience and careful thinking had protected it. The adults agreed that the object should stay with a clear label for future visitors.

- 13 The coral survey team asks: why did Ava hesitate in The Clockwork Feather?

A the object was too heavy to see
B the clues had all disappeared
C the object might belong to someone or be delicate
D the location was already closed

- 16 Before the coral survey, why was Ava's careful action important in The Clockwork Feather?

A it made the object disappear
B it stopped anyone learning the result
C it changed the location into a shop
D it protected the object and used the clues safely

- 14 In the coral survey, what does hesitated mean in The Clockwork Feather?

A forgot the discovery
B paused because of uncertainty
C shouted with excitement
D ran away immediately

- 17 The reef centre notice asks: what changes by the end of The Clockwork Feather?

A the character throws the object away
B all records of the discovery are removed
C the discovery becomes part of the place's known story
D the location is permanently closed

- 15 A reef centre card asks: what did Ava find at the beginning of The Clockwork Feather?

A a silver feather
B a new school bag
C a box of fresh food
D a broken sports trophy

Conventions of Language · L1–L25

L1 · D — an

Use an before the vowel sound at the start of umbrella.

L2 · C — sorted

Sorted names the action Ben performed, so it is the verb.

L3 · B — sorted

Last week shows the action happened in the past, so sorted is correct.

L4 · A — carefully

Carefully describes how the team completed the action.

L5 · D — Ava and I prepared the shells.

The subject pronoun I is correct because the speaker is part of the subject.

L6 · C — because

Because introduces the reason for working that way.

L7 · B — theirs

Theirs shows that the item belongs to the two named people.

L8 · A — The puppies move towards the shelter.

The plural subject puppies agrees with the verb move.

L9 · D — instruments

All three examples are instruments.

L10 · C — .

A calm command is a complete sentence and can end with a full stop.

L11 · B — can't

The apostrophe in can't marks letters omitted from cannot.

L12 · A — After the gates opened, we arranged the shells.

A comma separates the introductory clause from the main clause.

L13 · D — Where should we store the shells after the coral survey

The correct option asks a direct question, so it needs a question mark.

L14 · C — “The shells are ready!” called Ben.

The spoken words and exclamation mark stay inside the speech marks.

L15 · B — On Monday, Ava visited Canberra.

The sentence begins with a capital, and Monday, Ava and Canberra are proper nouns.

L16 · A — dog's

The singular possessive form dog's shows ownership.

L17 · D — Their

Their shows that the items belong to a group.

L18 · C — The striped shell was placed beside the reef centre.

The correct option has a subject, a verb and a complete idea.

L19 · B — They

They replaces two named people.

L20 · A — is

The main subject box is singular, so is is correct.

L21 · D — Before leaving, return the shells.

A comma follows the introductory clause.

L22 · C — children's

The lunchboxes belong to more than one member of the group; the possessive form is children's.

L23 · B — When will the coral survey begin at the reef centre

The correct option directly asks for information.

L24 · A — “Bring the shells, please,” called Ava.

The comma stays inside the closing speech mark before the reporting clause.

L25 · D — Neither of the shells is damaged.

The singular subject neither agrees with is.

Conventions of Language · L26–L50

R10 · B — write down

Here, record means to write down the observation or result.

R11 · A — to make the result easier to check and compare

A clear record makes an observation or result easier to check and compare.

R12 · D — a materials list and numbered steps

Procedures commonly use a materials list and ordered steps.

R13 · C — the object might belong to someone or be delicate

The second paragraph says the object might belong to someone else or be too delicate to handle alone.

R14 · B — paused because of uncertainty

The character pauses to think about ownership and safety.

R15 · A — a silver feather

The first paragraph says that Ava noticed a silver feather.

Reading · R16–R30

R16 · D — it protected the object and used the clues safely

The character asks for help or checks evidence instead of handling the discovery carelessly.

R17 · C — the discovery becomes part of the place's known story

The final paragraph explains that the discovery becomes part of the place's story.

R18 · B — Patience and careful thinking can protect a discovery.

The character succeeds by slowing down, checking clues and protecting the object.

R19 · A — Pumpkins

Pumpkins had a total mass of 32 kg, the greatest value in the table.

R20 · D — 33 kg

18 kg + 15 kg = 33 kg.

R21 · C — 3 kg

24 kg shared among 8 containers gives 3 kg in each container.

R22 · B — Each container could be much heavier.

The number of containers does not show the mass inside each one.

R23 · A — given to help others

The supplies were given for a community project.

R24 · D — Several supplies were weighed, packed and given to a community project.

This option includes the main ideas from the introduction and table.

R25 · C — while clouds drift across the sky

The words clouds drift across describe movement through the sky.

R26 · B — drops or bright reflections on surfaces

The shining drops or reflections look like jewels under the light.

R27 · A — The puddle shows an image of the sky.

A reflective surface can show an image of the sky like a mirror.

R28 · D — The sound of rain in the gutter rises there.

This line directly describes a sound in the scene.

R29 · C — curious and delighted

The poem directly says that the speaker feels curious and delighted.

R30 · B — An ordinary place can look special when light, weather or time changes.

The poem notices how familiar surroundings become beautiful and interesting.
